Winter 2021

From the President

Greetings and Merry Christmas to all Bellhops! I hope all of you have happy times with your families this holiday season.

CMA Day at Columbia Academy was a great success. Eight Alumni (yours truly included) came for a presentation to the Columbia Academy student body. We read to them the Medal of Honor citation for Nathan Green Gordon, a CMA Alumnus and WWII veteran. Then we answered questions from the students about what life was like as a cadet “back when”.

Reading the citation of former Cadet Gordon gave me great pause. So many of our fellow cadets went out into the world and made a positive difference. From service in the military to politics and business, many CMA cadets have excelled. That is a great legacy and one that I think we should pass on to future generations.

As we all know, our Alumni are a finite group and will one day be gone. I hope you will agree that we should preserve the memory of CMA and the meaningful values we were taught while there as cadets.

To ensure that memory stands long after all of us are gone I will be working with the board to put into place a plan for preserving our museum and scholarships in perpetuity. I know it seems that every time we turn around someone is asking for a donation, so this will be a private decision each of us must make. Personally, I plan to leave funds in my estate for this purpose. We will be contacting you about this later, but I wanted to let you know our intentions.

Finally, another great thank you to Dr. Thomas and Columbia Academy for being such stalwart friends of CMAAA and allowing us to keep a presence on campus. Many of our brother military academies campuses are long gone, but on our former grounds young men and women still today train to take their place in our great country. I’m thankful for that!

Until Our Next Formation,

Tom

CMA Day at Columbia Academy

Columbia Academy Celebrated CMA Day on Friday the 15th of October. This day, set up by the academy several years ago is designed to give Columbia Academy students a chance to learn a little more about CMA and the cadets that went to school there. The day started with the CMA alumni attendees attending the Chapel session and then hanging around the Chapel for visits by the students. During the Chapel Session, Dr. Thomas, CA President, provided a discussion and video highlighting 1933 CMA Graduate Nathan Green Gordon, a World War II Congressional Medal of Honor recipient and CMAAA Hall of Honor inductee. Alums then had the opportunity to have lunch with students in the Mess Hall and visit some more. They were also invited to attend the football game that evening. It was a great day for the alumni and CA students alike. Pictured above are the alumni that participated this year. They are, from left to right, Bill Wade ‘68, Woody Pettigrew ‘73, Robin Salze ‘66, Tom Carr ‘75, Greg Thompson ‘72, Bob Orr ‘76, Gene Van Meter ‘63, and H.C. Keltner ‘69. The hallway in Old Main looks a little different these days.

Meeting Minutes

The CMAAA Board meeting was called to order at 10:00 AM on Saturday, October 16, 2021. The meeting began with Tom Carr asking everyone to share a moment of silence, remembering the Board members and classmates we've lost this past year. A few were mentioned; Bill Strong, Randy Howell, Monty Pitts, Hank Lindsey, Wally Stanfield, and Frank Williams. The Invocation was given by Bobby Bain and Tom Carr led the Pledge of Allegiance. Robin Salze interjected that Tom Carr be welcomed as he begins his first Board meeting as President.

Rebecca Moon gave the Treasurer's report stating that the balance in the checking account is $36,600.55. She listed expenses from January 1, 2021 thru September 30, 2021 and this included: Reunion expenses, $17,018.43; Bugle publications (4 times a year, but this amount is only for 3), $1,165.00; the CMA Scholarship, $1,500.00; refunds (reunion), $450.00; and Miscellaneous, $87.30; which equaled a total of $20,220.74. Our income from January 1, 2021 thru September 30, 2021 was $26,123.00 (Reunion reservations, dues, and souvenir sales). The estimated expenses between October 1, 2021 and December 31, 2022 include the Bugle publication, $2,000; CMA scholarship, $1,500.00; Board of Directors meals, $1,200.00 (3 meetings at $400.00); Miscellaneous, $200.00; equaling a total of $4,900.00. Estimated income between October 1, 2021 and December 31, 2022 is $500.00. This total is based on donations and dues. Becky did state that because the reunion is not this year, dues collected will probably be minimal. She mentioned that there were some unexpected charges at the Marriott this year, due to new management. We are 501c3 status, which would give us sales tax exemption, and previously the Marriott accepted this; however, the new management apparently did not. Tom said we can work with the state to get a letter (certificate) which can be used for sales tax exemption, and he is hoping that with this certificate, we can be given a rebate for those expenses.

Woody Pettigrew was not present to give the Museum report, however, Becky did say that the report is basically unchanged; this month is when we pay our lease, $1,200, and insurance is $245.00. As of September 30, 2021 we have $16,815.47 in the Museum account. It was pointed out, also, that the General account was given $7,000.00 from the Museum account as a loan. This loan was made to cover expenses of the Monuments. The General account has yet to pay the Museum account back; this is something that we need to take into consideration. A motion was made to approve the Treasurer and Museum reports; the motion was seconded and approved. Tom made a motion for the minutes from our last meeting in August to be approved; the motion was seconded and approved.

Tom Carr wanted to suggest three ways we can leave behind a legacy since our association consists of a finite number of members. This legacy is for the community, but more importantly, for the students who are attending CA, and it will help them be aware of what CMA stood for, what we, as CMA students were taught and what we tried to do and carry out in our lives. One way is by keeping the museum maintained; the second is through the Scholarship fund (honoring the past by helping the future); the third is through historical repairs (fence; buildings; etc.) He suggested that we could work with CA to set these up as a single endowment. He suggested that we should begin raising money for these now; once these ideas are put into place. Money could be raised through donations, gifts of stock, etc. Bill Wade stated that we do have an existing CMA Alumni Endowment Fund, that is used for needed repairs and maintenance to historical CMA properties; and Tom stated that we could make a few alterations to the rules that govern the current endowment.

Tom asked Dr. Thomas to give any updates about CA and to give any feedback concerning his suggestion about the endowment. Dr. Thomas welcomed everyone and began by explaining our current endowment; in order to establish an endowment fund, there needs to be an initial gift of $10,000. The total school fund is currently $3.7 million. A good goal is for the amount to match the annual budget, which is between $9 and $10 million. The endowment is not quite where we would like it to be, but is, however, a good start. Those dollars are pooled and managed locally by the Parker Group (Baird Private Wealth Management Group). There is an endowment investment policy which governs how the funds are invested. Conservatively, the objective is for the endowment to make CPI plus 3%; 60%, equity; 40%, bond/portfolios. Board policy states that 5% (spending policy) of the 5 year rolling average can be taken out and added to the school's annual budget. Those dollars are used for student aid, helping those struggling to pay tuition; and the CMA portion of the endowment is designated for the maintenance of the campus (buildings, etc). Another part of the endowment goes toward faculty development (graduate degrees, etc.) Dr. Thomas will be giving Becky Moon an annual update (their fiscal years ends May 31), which will keep our association updated as to how much there is in the CMAAA portion of the school's endowment fund. He mentioned that since the last publication of "The Communicator", the school has received two new endowments, both started in memory of lost loved ones. One of the gifts was generated through an IRA; which is another way donations can be made. There are people at Baird who can help set up these types of donations. If a CMA alumnus wants to create a new endowment, Dr. Thomas suggested that endowment can be made in that person's name. Robin Salze added that if any donations under $10,000 are made, they could just be applied to the current endowment fund; and if someone wanted to donate $10,000, then a new endowment could be made. One point Dr. Thomas emphasized is that donations that are given to the endowment fund can be placed where the donor wishes the funds to be used.

Dr. Thomas also suggested to Tom that we should prioritize which of the three suggestions he made for leaving a legacy would be most relevant; the museum stood out as what should be at the top of the list. All three are great ideas, but maintaining the museum should be of the utmost importance.

Dr. Thomas stated that there will an upcoming campaign to expand some of the facilities on campus due to the ever growing enrollment; more space is needed to meet their enrollment challenges. He is wanting to put windows in

- Continued on Page 3 -

Frierson Hall, for example. Academy Hall is another building needing attention. These are not top priority at the moment; however, if a donor wanted to give toward these renovations now, then he said they could get them started sooner.

Becky Moon stated that our lease will end in the fall of 2022 and that we will need to get a five year extension, which Dr. Thomas agreed to do. She added that we may need to extend beyond the five year extension, as our goal is to give the class of '78 a chance to meet for their 50 year reunion.

Dr. Thomas gave a brief update on his CA report. He thanked everyone who participated in CMA Day; it was a great day. The enrollment is at 1,071 students, preschool-12th grade, including Spring Hill. The pandemic seems to have sent a lot of folks their way, and both schools currently have waiting lists. CA is planning to expand facilities to accommodate future growth. There is a 3-year and a 6-year plan. In about 6 years there will probably be about 90-95 students per grade, which will be about 1,400 students. He said if they had a new auditorium, they would be set for the long term. They have grown 96 students from last year.

Congratulations to Connor Henson, who is their state champion cross country and track star. He will be competing in the cross country championship this fall and track in the spring. He is a senior this year and is visiting all the SEC schools. Another student, Keetan Kodak, whose dad has coached at CA for over 20 years, scored a 36 on his ACT last year, which is a perfect score. He's very involved in all kinds of things, including helping to create a new council for young people, working with the mayor and local government. His goal is to be admitted to MIT. He is wanting to be a nuclear physicist.

The fence repairs have been completed and the next thing to be done is paint the fence. They have contracted with the company to power wash and paint the fence. This is supposed to begin sometime this month. The focus is along West 7th and Trotwood. They also have an agreement with the Boy Scouts and they may be helping paint the fence along Academy Lane

Mike Glover inquired about a section of fence at the entrance on West 7th. Dr. Thomas explained that the cross country and track team wanted a place to recognize their teams. They practice on the front yard and they run all over campus, as well as, all over town; there is a banner on the fence now that recognizes their State Championships and their successes. All of their sports teams do senior banners; the football and basketball banners are hung up on the fence. The track and cross country expressed their concern that they had no place to hang their senior banners. They made a request and were given this area to resolve the issue. There are currently 25 students who are on the track and cross country teams. Dr. Thomas believes the girls will make it to State this year.

Old Business

Tom Carr opened the discussion about the reunion and any concerns that need to be addressed. Mike Glover felt that the Marriott did an unsatisfactory job with communicating where the breakfast was being served on Saturday morning. There was a wonderful meal set up, but the location was not clarified so many did not attend because they went to another area to eat.

Bill Wade made a request that the Board meeting that is scheduled the Friday afternoon prior to the reception, be moved to a different time because the number of people who showed up for the golf tournament was around 9. He feels like part of the reason is because they could only schedule it at 8 AM. There was discussion to possibly move the Board meeting to Saturday AM just prior to the General Assembly meeting. Bill would like to see an increase of participation at our next reunion. Dr. Thomas asked if some of the students from the golf team could come and play during the tournament. This is something we may consider as we plan for the 2023 reunion.

Mike Gilchrist was asked to give the Photo report. There has been ongoing discussion about digitizing our photos, putting them online or putting them on a server that can be accessed by us. We considered having West 7th Co to help with this, but it may be more economical to just have David White work with us. He has all the needed equipment to do the job. This is a work in progress and will be pursued further, as we try to establish the cost of having this done.

New Business

Tom Carr spoke about the recent CMA Day, sharing his experience and encouraged anyone who has not participated and those who have, to try and do so next year. There were eight participants this year. Tom said he enjoyed the time he spent speaking with students during the assembly and at lunch. He mentioned that they were very polite and we laughed when he said "They even endured my corny jokes". He made Dr. Thomas aware of how much our association appreciates this opportunity to share our experiences with students of CA on a day that has been set aside specifically to recognize CMA's history.

Tom began the discussion about the upcoming 2023 reunion by stating that we have been trying to bring the reunion back to Columbia for the past several years. The Marriott has just provided a convenient way of having everything under one roof. He said that we will have to make a decision at our spring board meeting as to where our venue will be. Maury County is growing tremendously and there are a lot of new places being built. However, any new places may not be completed in time for us to reserve for our 2023 reunion. If we are in Columbia, we may have to stay at different places. Dr. Thomas and Becky Moon made the suggestion that Puckett's could be a possible location for our Mixer and Banquet. It is large enough to house our group and will be a topic of discussion in the spring. Becky said we could even use the Mule Town Trolley for transporting folks. Dr. Thomas offered using their CA Charter Bus as another option. There will need to be a motel/hotel location for our base; for registration and memorabilia display purposes.

A suggestion for our 2023 Honor Group recognition was discussed. It was decided that cadets who attended CMA in the 50's and earlier be recognized. A motion was made to approve this decision, it was seconded and approved.

Closing

Having no further business to discuss, Tom Carr gave the closing prayer and our meeting was adjourned at 11:56 AM.

Once again this year Tex Tucker '71, front right, hosted a number of alumni and friends for a fun filled week in Grayton Beach as another edition of the Florida Invasion was experienced. As you can see from the pictures, a good time was had by all.
