WE FIRST SEEK

KNOWLEDGE

When the seeds of wonder and curiosity are nourished with an education, they blossom into wisdom, sympathy, and understanding.

OUR FASHION IS MILITARY

Our name, our uniform, our training, our bearing, our discipline, our demeanor, all show we are military.

THE BODY

COMPLEMENTS THE MIND

C.M.A. endeavors to promote growth in every facet of a boy's development. A healthy body leads toward a fuller realization of the joy of being alive.

EVERY BOY HAS MANY INTERESTS

Today's hobby may be tomorrow's profession. At C.M.A. boys can develop new interests or pursue present ones under the friendly guidance of the faculty.

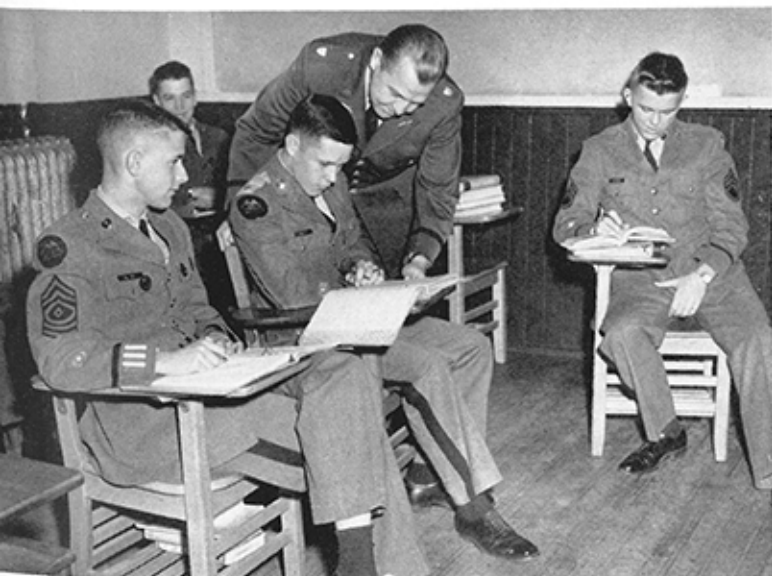

DEDICATION

To a teacher who has given us the best in education, we give A TOKEN OF OUR APPRECIATION.

The 1961 graduating class pays tribute to an outstanding member of the CMA faculty as it dedicates this issue of the RECALL to Major John B. Thomas. In the six years Major Thomas has been on the staff at CMA, he has created and maintained a climate of warm interest in the development of each boy who has been fortunate enough to come within the sphere of his influence. He is better able to understand the specific problems of Cadets for he himself was once a Cadet at CMA.

Scholarship and character are his outstanding projects and the focal points around which his classes are built. We shall always be grateful to him for refusing to compromise with second-best in his insistence upon a high standard of accomplishment.

The passing of time will but increase our admiration and affection for this man whose remarkable gifts as a teacher inspired and stimulated us to acquire knowledge, so that in the years to come we might make a valid contribution to society.

VALEDICTORIAN

Ralph Alvin Cover of Columbia, Tennessee, with an average of 98.12, achieved the highest academic honor attainable at Columbia Military Academy: that of being named valedictorian of the 1961 graduating class. During the four years he has attended C.M.A., Ralph has distinguished himself in many phases of school life. He won the class medals in his sophomore and junior years, the science medals in biology and chemistry, and the medal in journalism. A member of the Efficiency Company one year and a winner of the Good Conduct Award three years, he has always been in the top ten per cent of his military class. He has attained the rank of Captain, Battle Group S-2. Ralph played varsity tennis during his senior year. He has been editor-in-chief of the Bugle Call for the past two years, being the first junior in the history of the Academy named to that position. He has served as a member of the RECALL staff for two years, this year as an associate editor. Ralph is a National Merit Scholarship finalist, was elected to the Academy's Hall of Fame, and was voted the one "Most Likely to Succeed" by his classmates.

SALUTATORIAN

James Rush Freeman, III, of Savannah, Tennessee, in being named salutatorian of the graduating class of 1961, has been awarded one of the highest scholastic distinctions conferred by Columbia Military Academy. In addition, in being appointed to the post of Battle Group Commander, he has earned the highest military honor attainable at C.M.A. His service in this capacity was so exemplary that he became the first cadet in the history of C.M.A. to attain the rank of Colonel. His scholastic standing and his rare leadership ability have combined to make him one of the most outstanding students in the school. In his freshman year Jimmy won the Class Medal and the General Science Medal; in his Sophomore year he won the Math Medal. In the military field, Jimmy was chosen "Superior Cadet" in his Military Science 1 and 2, and was awarded the Association of the United States Army Medal as the outstanding Junior in his Military Science 3; he was a member of Efficiency Company one year and commanded the Best Drilled Squad at Commencement. He earned the Good Conduct Award for two years. He served as Vice-President of his Freshman class, treasurer of the Y.M.C.A. in his Junior year, and was a member of the band and third baseman on the baseball team for three years. Jimmy was elected to the Hall of Fame and voted "Mr. C. M. A." by his classmates.

SCHOLARSHIP BADGE

The Scholarship group is one of the two groups honored by the Academic Department for academic achievement. The cadets pictured below earned this distinction for the first semester of this school year. Every cadet in this group has maintained an average of 86 or better in each subject for this period of time. For this demonstration of scholastic proficiency, each boy in this group has been presented with the coveted Scholarship Badge, a handsome red "S" embroidered on a black oval. In addition, cadets who, at the end of the school year, have a final grade average of 86 or better in each subject, will be presented the Scholarship Pin in an impressive ceremony during the commencement exercises. Both the Scholarship Badge and the Scholarship Pin are truly tokens of merit, for only about ten percent of the student body is able to qualify for them. We wish these boys continued success and hope to see many more join with them in sharing this honor.

HONOR ROLL

The second group honored by the Academic Department for scholastic achievement is the Honor Roll group. The cadets pictured above are those who have attained this honor for the first semester of the school year. They maintained an average of 80 or better in each subject during this period. Quite notably, this group also comprises only about ten per cent of the student body. These young men are to be congratulated for their fine work.

MILITARY STAFF

When a boy dons the uniform of Columbia Military Academy, he is integrated into a pattern of life far different from that of his civilian counterparts. The responsibility of effecting this change rests in great part with the Professor of Military Science and his staff.

For the past three years the military staff has been under the able direction of Lieutenant Colonel Karl P.

Hemeyer. Unfortunately for CMA, he will be restationed in Germany at the end of the present school year. The two assistant Professors of Military Science are Captains Edwin K. Crowley and Mason R. Shelton. The other personnel who comprise the military staff are Sergeant Major Henry S. Sadlo, Master Sergeants Wilfred J. Gilbert and Orval L. Zummach, and Sergeants First Class John P. Page and C. O. Arnold.

CADET STAFF

The Cadet Staff is under the leadership of the Battle Group Commander, who directs all military phases of school life. The S-1 is the Adjutant; the S-2 is in charge of publicity and public relations; the S-3, operations; and the S-4, maintenance. The S-5 is the Junior School Supervisor. The staff supervises all formations and military activities and aids the Commander in carrying out his plans. It also rates the companies for efficiency awards.

Military drill teaches men to work as a team in close co-operation with one another. A common purpose has drawn the members of the Gold Star Drill Platoon together: To attain perfection in the art of military drill. By constant and arduous practice the team has made precision their watchword.

The team's achievement is manifest in the many awards and honors they have received. For seven of the last nine years, they have distinguished themselves by winning the Tennessee drill trophy for military preparatory schools. Indeed, the Gold Star Drill Platoon of Columbia Military Academy is widely known throughout the South. This year the team was honored with several invitations to perform in other cities, among them in Tampa, Florida, at the Gasperilla, and in New Orleans at the Mardi Gras. Annually, the Gold Star travels to the Cotton Carnival in Memphis, Tennessee.

The Gold Star unit is the pride of CMA. Every dignitary visiting the CMA campus is received by an honor guard of the Gold Star. The unit also performs at many parades and football games.

The drillmaster of this year's team is Cadet First Lieutenant George M. Terrell of Memphis, Tennessee. Assisting him is Cadet First Lieutenant James H. Whitmer of Indianapolis, Indiana. The cadet commander is Cadet Captain Dennis E. Stevenson, of Ludington, Michigan.

The Gold Star's "farm team" is the Junior Gold Star Drill Platoon. In this unit, cadets hopeful of performing on the Senior Gold Star serve their apprenticeship. Here, rudiments of regular drill are stressed, as well as fancy, precision drill.

The entire organization is supervised by Captain Mason R. Shelton and Master Sergeant Orval L. Zummach. They give much time toward careful training of the units.

It takes months of constant practice to become a marksman. The Columbia Military Academy Rifle Team, through long and arduous effort, has brought many honors and distinctions to the school. This year the cadets took first place in the 1960-61 Army Area ROTC Interscholastic Indoor Smallbore Rifle Matches, firing against all essentially military schools in the nation. The team also placed third in the nation in the William Randolph Hearst Trophy Match by firing 944 out of 1000, only one point out of first place. The Cadets also triumphed in the Third Army Area ROTC Match, and captured the MID-South and the Tennessee Trophies.

Castle Heights, the arch rival of CMA, bowed to the cadets in three of the four matches fired this year.

The Columbia Military Academy Rifle Team, under the supervision of Captain E. K. Crowley and Master Sergeant W. J. Gilbert, is truly one of the all-time greats in the history of the school.

This year's football team was hampered by injuries and inexperience. The squad had only one returning player, tackle Bill Coleman, who lettered the year before, playing primarily as a reserve. In the first scrimmage, Carl Daddona, the number one left halfback, sustained a torn cartilage that sidelined him for the rest of the season. Jimmy Bankston, right halfback, underwent an operation for the same reason. Bill Coleman with a fractured jaw and Clarence Patton with a severe cut were both lost for a few games. Butch Pingston, an end, suffered a bad knee.

On the brighter side, the team was fortunate in having several good football players. John Taylor, the all Mid-South center, was one of the best linemen to play for C.M.A. in many years. Doug Derosa was also an all Mid-South selection and did a creditable job at fullback. Maxie Boles, Mark Morel, and Jimmy Hinson played well for the experience they had had. The team made progress in every game; and, considering the opposition and lack of experience, the coaching staff feels that the Bulldogs performed rather well.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 60-61 Basketball Team under Coach Bill Wade consistently played good ball during the entire season. Close, hard-fought games made the season interesting for the fans, as well as the team and coach. The five Mid-South games lost fell by a slim total of thirteen points. The biggest victory was a 92-74 win over the University of the South "B" Team.

The big guns for the Bulldogs were Moore Landers, All Mid-South center, and Mike Cram All Mid-South Tournament Team forward. Every man of the team played enough to merit a varsity letter.

Another flash finish by Cliff Tanner, four-year letterman

This year Coach Towles and Coach Allen were obliged to build a team almost exclusively from new material. Only three experienced seniors were members of the squad. Two of these, Ronnie Hart and Cliff Tanner, promised much toward setting new quarter-mile and mile records, respectively. Maxie Boles, a real five-event man, was the main forte for capturing points in the broadjump and low hurdles.

Underclassmen this year competed in every event: Val Hamlin and Jim Eliassen (juniors) in the pole vault; Marc Sanders, Charlie Greer (juniors) and "Dagwood" Daggett (sophomore) in the high and low hurdles; Jerry Garrison, Steve Dobbins (junior), and Barry Velarde (sophomore) in middle distance. Russ Brown (junior) did a good job in keeping up with Ronnie Hart in the mile run. Leon Hoffman (sophomore) exhibited much potential towards becoming a good weightman by breaking the standard school record in the javelin throw.

Dave Rees, John Taylor, Clarence Patton, and Bob Buckner were post-grad students who imparted great strength to the field events.

As in former years the strongest opponents of the CMA squad during the season turned out to be McCallie and Baylor. Other squads that vied with CMA were from St. Andrews, BGA, and Castle Heights. The climax of the season was the Mid-South meet held May 12-13 in Atlanta, Georgia.

A greater emphasis on freshman and junior-school competition resulted in a new interest in track on the part of many underclassmen. The coaches feel that early experience in competing will build a firm foundation for a track team in the future.

Although the team got off to a good start by defeating Castle Heights, several questions regarding the personnel appeared and were left unanswered until well into the season. The infield was set with Mitchell on first, Sears on second, Hardwick at shortstop, and Daddona on third. Doug De Rosa proved to be the best catcher the team had had in years.

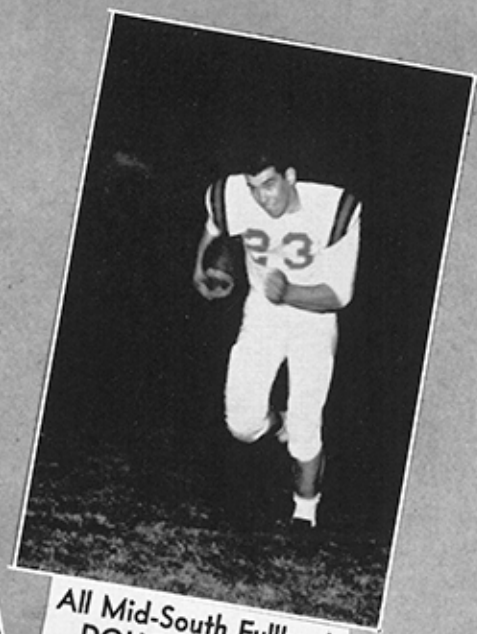

The pitching staff, however, was young and inexperienced, only Lefty Steve Pearson, having pitched in tough competition before. All the outfielders lacked experience, but they improved greatly as the season went along. The astute coaching of Tom Jones and his assistants, Bill Gunn and Bill Wade, had much to do with the team's success.

MR. C. M. A.

The Senior Class of 1961 has elected James R. Freeman, III, of Savannah, Tennessee, to be Mr. C.M.A. Outstanding in every phase of school activity, Jimmy represents the type of cadet in which C.M.A. can take justifiable pride. The esteem in which he is held by both teachers and students is evidenced by his being the first cadet in the history of Columbia Military Academy to attain the rank of Colonel. His scholastic ability has earned for him the coveted distinction of Salutatorian. His is a record for others to follow, for he exemplifies the best all-round qualities of a C.M.A. graduate.

THE HALL OF FAME

C.M.A. Hall of Fame membership is based on character, scholarship, leadership, school spirit, contributions to the improvement of C.M.A., and indications of future success. Hall of Fame membership is one of the highest honors a C.M.A. cadet can achieve.

The following is the procedure by which cadets are selected for the Hall of Fame: by secret ballot the faculty and the class presidents select six cadets of their choice from a group of outstanding cadets, who are also chosen secretly by certain of the faculty. The Hall of Fame is sponsored solely by the RECALL and there are no campus politics involved.

CADET BAND

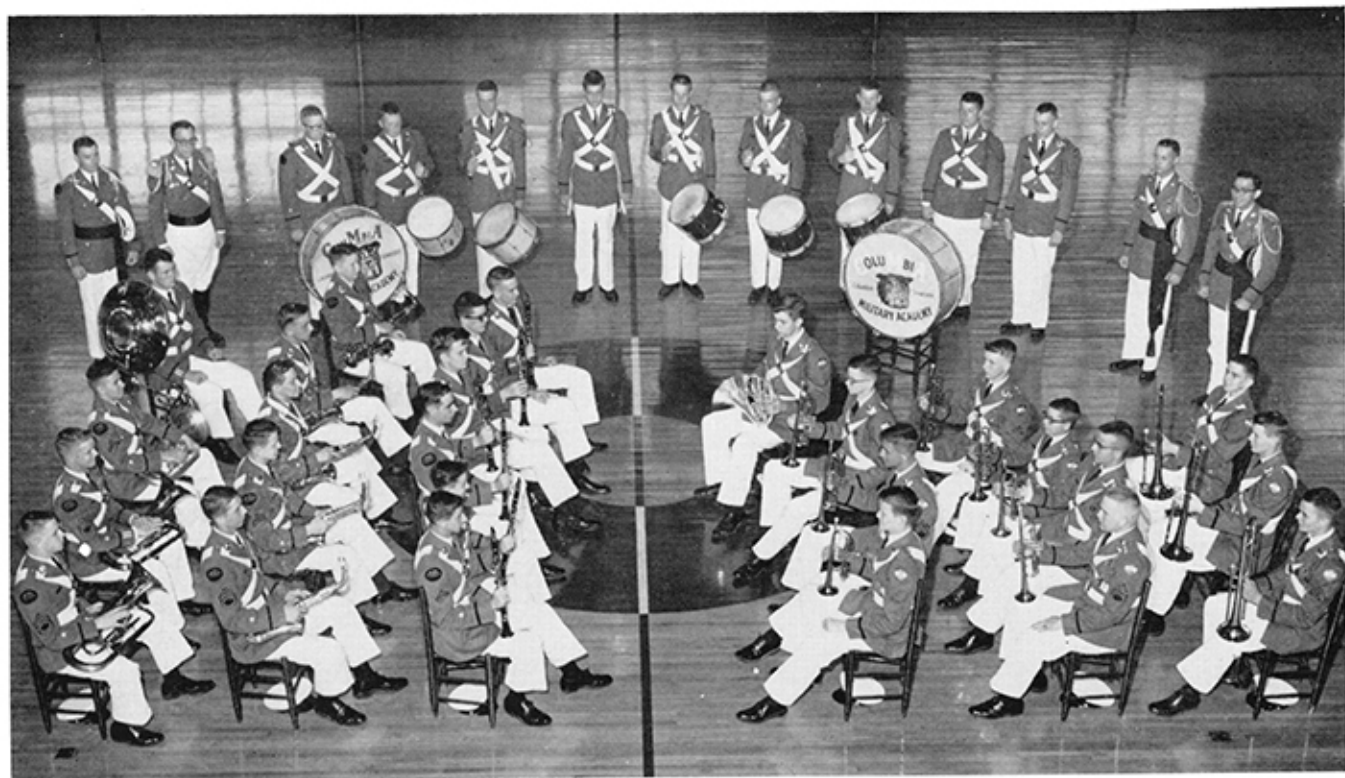

The musical units of Columbia Military Academy make a marked contribution to the social life and interest of the school. The CMA Band is under the direction of Major Paul Cauchon, a talented musician, assisted by Larry Pitts, Company Commander, and Wade Bowie, Drum Major. The band received many invitations to play at functions away from the school, but could not accept them all. It did, however, participate in parades held by civic organizations in Columbia; it played in Nashville and at the Cotton Carnival in Memphis; it was particularly popular at the Sunday parades held on the campus. The cadets and the faculty are indeed proud of the work of the Band this year.

Wade Bowie, Drum Major; Major Cauchon, Director; Larry Pitts, Company Commander.

Any course of instruction in academic fields, however complete, would be of little value if the fundamentals of character and Christian manhood were not repeatedly emphasized. In order to enrich the spiritual life of the student body the Y.M.C.A. was founded at Columbia Military Academy in 1944. Under the able guidance of Major J. Keylon Moore it has grown in stature and scope and has provided inspiration and enjoyment for its members. Under the leadership of cadet officers it meets twice each week on Thursday and Sunday evenings. The cadets often prepare and present their own religious programs, but frequently invite visiting singers, speakers, and musicians from the surrounding area. The organization exerts a wholesome and constructive influence over the entire student body. Its pledge is as follows: I pledge my best efforts to uphold the purpose of this organization, which is to create, maintain, and to extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character; to promote clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living.
