With the introduction of a new administrative department, there seems to be a new spirit that has permeated the activities of the C.M.A. Battalion. We the editors of the RECALL, have dedicated ourselves to the portrayal of this new spirit as well as that of the old traditions, for C.M.A. was founded upon the traditions of the past and is thriving upon the spirit of the present. As hard as it is to capture this new spirit and to express such an intangible idea as tradition, we think we have succeeded through the use of pictures and words. The results we proudly present to you in your 1963 RECALL.

THE ANNUAL OF
COLUMBIA MILITARY ACADEMY
COLUMBIA, TENNESSEE

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The education of our people is a national investment. It yields tangible returns in economic growth, an improved citizenry and higher standards of living. But even more importantly, free men and women value education as a personal experience and opportunity—as a basic benefit of a free and democratic civilization.

FRANK G. CLEMENT
GOVERNOR

Students, Faculty and Staff:

I appreciate this opportunity to greet you through the pages of THE RECALL and to tell you how proud I am of the increasingly important role that Columbia Military Academy occupies in the field of education in Tennessee.

The high scholastic and military standing of the Class of '63 has made a significant contribution to that role.

The year 1963 will be a year remembered for major gains in the educational system of our state. We are about to embark on a project of space research and high level training in the application of nuclear energy. Regardless of what the future may bring, I am confident that Columbia Military Academy will occupy a position in the forefront of our activities.

The high standards of C. M. A. have been exemplified in many ways and I am happy to extend my congratulations and best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,

Frank G. Clement

VALEDICTORIAN

Charles Stanton Field, III, has won the highest honor available to a cadet at Columbia Military Academy. Charlie, as he is known to his classmates, has been awarded the Valedictory of the Senior Class of 1963, with the leading average of 97.11. Throughout four years at C.M.A., Charlie has consistently been at the top of his class. He has won his respective class medal every year and has won a Mathematics Medal, General Science Medal, Biology Medal, and Chemistry Medal. Charlie has always been in the top ten percent of his military class and in his first two years he won the outstanding Military Science I and II awards. In four years here, Charlie has always been one of the more proficient members of our much vaunted rifle team.

Charlie is not limited to academic and military activities. He is President of our chapter of the National Honor Society and President of the Junior Civitan Club. He is also an active member of the Political Science Club. Charlie was President of his Sophomore and Junior classes and is Vice-President of his Senior Class.

As the Executive Officer of this year's Cadet Battalion, Charlie holds the rank of Cadet Major. He was elected to the Hall of Fame, and his graduating class voted him the "Most Likely to Succeed."

Charlie plans to study electrical engineering and will attend either Mississippi State University or the Georgia Institute of Technology.

CHARLES STANTON FIELD, III
Shuqualak, Mississippi

Billy Anderson, as Co-Salutatorian of this year's Senior Class, has certainly lived up to the expectations of his classmates, for he was elected to the superlative "Most Studious."

Billy has been a consistent scholarship student for the three years he has attended C.M.A. He has also received the wreath of academic achievement for being in the top ten percent of his Military Science Class.

Billy is a charter member of the National Honor Society, is active in the academy Junior Civitan Club and Political Science Club, and was elected to the Hall of Fame by the school faculty. He has been a member of the Senior Gold Star Platoon for two years, and has been active on the RECALL staff his Junior and Senior years, this year attaining the position of Associate Editor.

A versatile cadet, Billy also excels in the military phase of C.M.A. His rank is cadet Captain, and he is on the battalion staff. He has received the Good Conduct Medal for two years, and has represented C.M.A. at the math contest in Pulaski, Tennessee, twice.

Billy plans to study nuclear engineering at either the Air Force Academy or Vanderbilt University.

CO-SALUTATORIANS

The competition for the Salutatory of 1963 was so keen that there was a tie between two outstanding cadets: Maurice Manning Anderson, Jr.; and Marion Jarvis Aldridge, Jr. Both of these students had an average of 92.81.

"Jarv" Aldridge has consistently been near the top of his class throughout his four years at the Academy. He has always made Scholarship and wears the wreath of academic achievement awarded to the top ten percent of the Military Science Classes. Jarv is active in many fields, being a seasoned veteran of the Gold Star Drill Platoon, and having repeatedly been a stalwart member of the group chosen to represent the school at the annual mathematics contest.

Jarv has shown himself as being a superior military cadet, holding the rank of cadet First Lieutenant and commanding the second platoon of Company "B".

One of the original charter members of the Academy Chapter of the National Honor Society, Jarvis is now Secretary-Treasurer of that organization, and is an active member of the Junior Civitan Club.

Jarvis plans to attend the United States Military Academy in West Point, New York.

SCHOLARSHIP BADGE

The Scholarship rating of Columbia Military Academy is approximately equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa. All cadets in this group have 86 or better in every academic subject. Members of this group receive Scholarship Badges to wear on their uniforms as a mark of distinction. We here at C.M.A. honor those who wear Scholarship Badges. At the end of the year, if a cadet has earned 86 or better in every subject he is awarded a Scholarship Pin during the Commencement Exercises.

Pictured below are the cadets who, for the first semester, were presented with the Scholarship Badge in recognition of their academic proficiency.

First Row (front): T. W. Briggs, C. R. Calhoun, J. F. Truitt, M. R. Eastburn, L. Harden, D. C. Byers, J. L. Baker, J. E. McMath, M. L. Gilchrist, H. R. Aldridge. Second Row: R. M. To qualify for the Honor Roll group a cadet must have an average of eighty or better in each subject, based on the first semester's work. Since the Honor Roll group does not receive any type of badge for their achievement, we feel that we should honor them here. The cadets who maintain the eighty average for the full year are recognized during the Commencement Exercises.

MILITARY

MILITARY STAFF

As a new cadet to Columbia Military Academy, one of the departments that will affect his life at C.M.A. is the military department. As the years go by the military staff plays a big role at C.M.A. This year is no exception. Under the constant guidance of Major Shelton and his staff they have helped turn out one of the best cadet corps in years.

The primary purpose of the military department is the instruction of R.O.T.C. This is accomplished by instruction of military science classes, drill, and inspections.

On November 10, 1962, Colonel Heffelfinger, chief of R.O.T.C. section of XII U.S. Army Corps, inspected the cadet corps, military department, and school facilities. March 21, 1963, was the date of the Command Maintenance Readiness Inspection. The inspection was made by XII U.S. Army Corps inspectors. This was an inspection of all military equipment and facilities. The most important inspection of the year was April 10, 1963. This was the Federal Inspection which determines the Honor School Rating. C.M.A. has been an honor school since 1935. The federal inspectors were Colonel Hayes, Commandant and P.M.S. of the Citadel, and Lieutenant Colonel Farrell, Assistant P.M.S. of the University of Georgia.

The superior showing made at these inspections was made possible by the complete cooperation of the cadet corps under the supervision of the cadet staff and military department.

CADET STAFF

No organization can operate smoothly without proper supervision. The cadet staff of the Columbia Military Academy battalion supervises the operation of the entire cadet corps, and each member strives to perform his duties with the utmost proficiency. One of these main duties is the grading of the companies in close order drill, and compiling those grades to determine the efficiency company for each month and for the full year.

This year the staff is under the leadership of Lieutenant Colonel Harold E. Smith.

RIFLE TEAM

As all rifle team members know, results that are outstanding are achieved by hard work, patience, and the desire to win. The 1962-63 C.M.A. Rifle Team has shown these characteristics. The Rifle Team supervisor, Capt. Charles M. Luce, Jr., and the coach, Staff Sergeant Darrell T. Barnes have done outstanding work this year with the team.

During the 1962-63 shooting season, the team, led by team captain Patrick Sefton, won the Mid-South Championship for the fourth consecutive year. They were national winners of the Division F-NRA junior matches. The team won second place nationally in the U.S. Army sponsored Inter-Collegiate and Inter-Scholastic Small Bore Rifle Match, defeating ten other military schools. In addition, the team placed second in the Tennessee Trophy Match and fifth in the Chattanooga Outdoor Invitational Match.

No parade is complete without the appearance of a smart, quick-stepping precision drill team. C.M.A. is the home of just such a unit, the Gold Star Drill Platoon. To become masters of their rigorous drill, these volunteers practice constantly throughout the year.

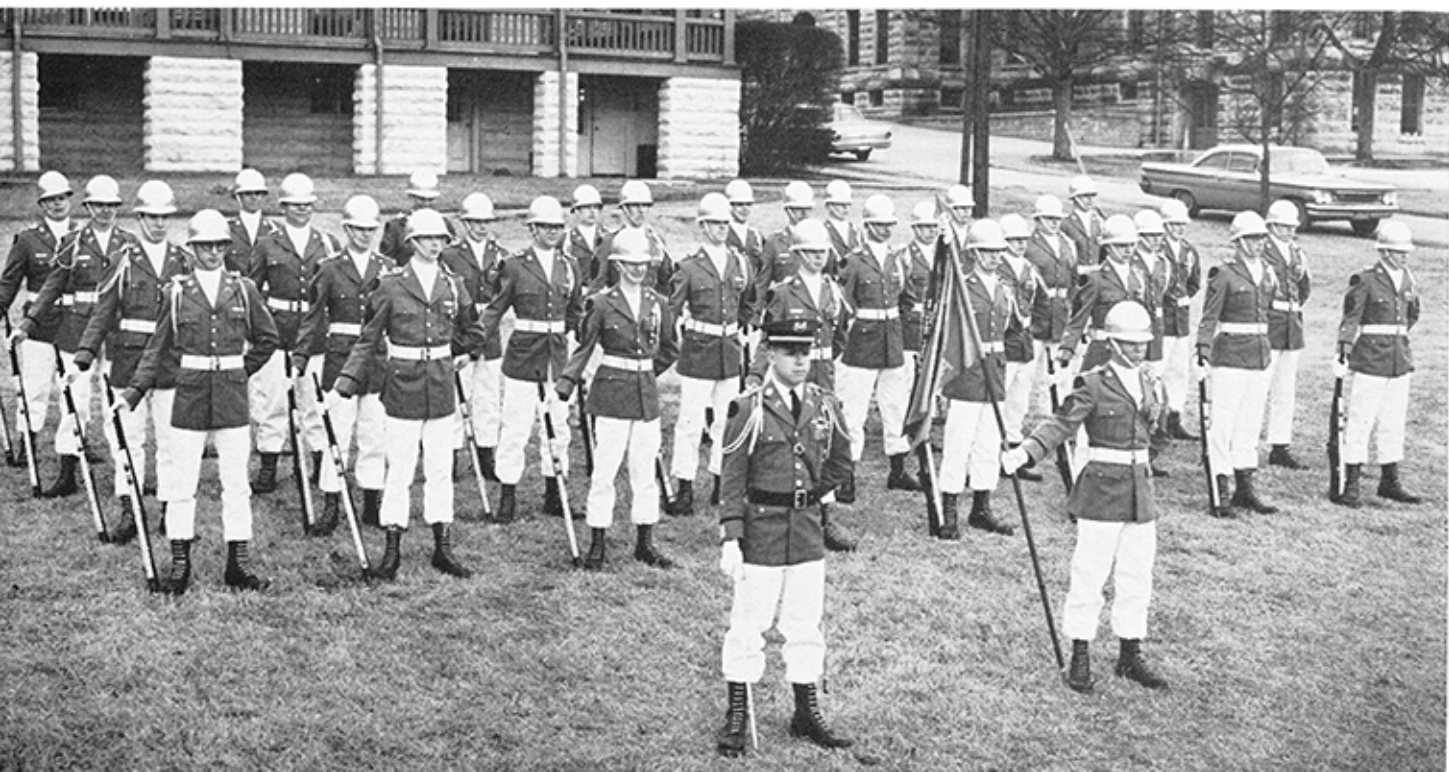

Among their many duties, Gold Star, in conjunction with Band and Color Guard, display their talents for important visitors to the school and for the enjoyment of patrons at several dress parades. Their fame is known throughout the South, ranging from the annual Vanderbilt University Drill Meet, where last year they obtained first place, to the parades of Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Working side-by-side with Gold Star is the Junior Platoon. This platoon consists of boys who are trying to gain enough efficiency to drill with the Senior Platoon.

This year, our drill team is commanded by Captain John L. Baker, and assisted by First Lieutenant Warren B. Miller. The Junior Platoon is drilled by Corporal A. G. Olsen. Both platoons were supervised by Captain J. G. Warmath, SFC C. O. Arnold, and S/Sgt. C. A. Doughman.

The 1963 Bulldogs started practice early in September under Coaches Bill Gunn, Ernest Allen, and Tom Jones. There were three regulars returning from the 1962 team: Paul Caplis, Phil Baker, and Gus Mahan. Ken Petty and Ronnie Stone were elected Co-Captains.

The Bulldogs after winning the first game against Tennessee Military Institute, tied with McCallie. Marching on, they won over Cumberland County High and Baylor. The Bulldogs were later nosed out against Marion Institute, Darlington, and Castle Heights.

Because of our losing the Mid-South Championship to Baylor by seven points, this year might be considered a disappointing year if it were not for the excellent showing made previously by the team. Under the expert, constant guidance and supervision of Coach Bill Wade, striving for sportsmanship, teamwork, and the desire to win, this year can be termed nothing less than successful.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

VARSITY BASEBALL

The baseball squad, under the supervision of Coaches Tom Jones and Bill Gunn, began its practice with four of last year's players back at their positions. The boys returning included Bill Foree at second base, Bill Nichols on the mound, Andy Hyde in center field, and Larry Watson catching. This team, through much hard work and practice, has become a fine asset to the C.M.A. athletic department.

The Varsity Track team has made a fine showing this year. At the Shelbyville meet, Hoffman, M. L. set two school records for the Shot Put and the Discus. This year at the Baylor Relays, Daggett, D. M. tied the mid-south hurdle record. Another good man who runs the 880 yard relay and the mile run is Fair, R. H., who usually scores at least ten points a meet. R. R. Lewis and R. P. Stone have been top sprinters all year. These men have proved themselves to be true athletes. Coached by Major Eugene Towles, who is assisted by Captain Ernest Allen, this year's team has developed into an outstanding group.

On many team trips they have made excellent showings. The teams for the coming years show much chance for success under the supervision of their coach, E. S. Towles.

MR. C. M. A.

Mr. C.M.A., exemplifying the fine traits of a model cadet, is the highest honor achieved by a cadet.

Along with an exceptional year as battalion commander and a bright future in any undertaking, the Senior Class has elected Harold Emmett Smith of Bessemer, Alabama, as Mr. C.M.A. 1963.

Columbia Military Academy's Hall of Fame consists of cadets who have shown good scholarship, leadership, school spirit, and initiative.

The qualifications for membership in this six-membered, elite group are exacting. A nominating committee appointed by the RECALL faculty advisor nominates twenty cadets. These twenty nominee's names are presented to the faculty and the members of the Military Department. The six most egregious cadets are thus chosen and compose our Hall of Fame.

ACTIVITIES

Since 1944, the Y.M.C.A. has strived to instill in each cadet a keen faith and responsibility toward God.

During the year, the Y sponsors many activities such as the Sunday night Vesper Service, the Wednesday night services and the annual Candlelight Service.

The Y was under the leadership of Major J. Keylon Moore until his death February 3, 1963. After he died the leadership was taken over by Captain Lawrence W. Lee, who has kept the Y.M.C.A. the most important organization on the campus.

Seated: M. L. Gilchrist, President; Major J. Keylon Moore, Faculty Advisor; Captain L. W. Lee, Faculty Advisor. Standing: D. M. Daggett, Vice-President; C. C. Harris, Treasurer; E. H. Sanders, Secretary.

There are four letters on the National Honor Society Emblem: C for Character, S for Scholarship, L for Leadership, and S for Service. The members of the Columbia Military Academy Chapter of this society certainly exemplify these four standards. Under the leadership of the faculty advisor, Major Eugene Towles, the Honor Society has set the standard for the entire student body. One of the highest honors a cadet can receive is to be admitted into this society.

BUGLE CALL

The "Bugle Call" has been the official publication of C.M.A. since 1919. For many years it was published in the form of a magazine. Since his arrival at C.M.A. in 1953, Major Ford has worked diligently to improve the quality of the newspaper by devoting much of his time to helping those cadets interested in journalism.

Each issue helps to inform students, faculty, parents, and alumni of all school activities and important events throughout the school year. Each issue also contains a variety of articles and regular columns written both by students and faculty members.

Major Ford, Faculty Advisor, and Mike Gilchrist, Editor-in-Chief.

JUNIOR CIVITAN

The Columbia Civitan Club of Columbia, Tennessee, appointed Captain Lawrence Lee, a teacher at Columbia Military Academy to investigate the possibility of organizing a Junior Civitan Club on the C.M.A. Campus. The club was organized in February, 1962 with forty-two members.

The second year after the Junior Civitan Club was organized, many members were invited to join the organization. This year Capt. Daimwood, along with Capt. Lee, was appointed to be the advisor to the junior organization.

The Junior Civitan consists of cadets who are an asset to the school; it is a civic organization with a motto, "Builders of Good Citizenship."

The most recent addition to the extracurricular activities at C.M.A. is the Glee Club, directed by Captain Joe Groom. Early in the academic year auditions were held, and promising candidates were invited to join the organization. The response was so enthusiastic that the Glee Club now boasts more members than any other campus activity. Having performed at several school functions, it has already become an integral part of life at C.M.A.

PERFORMANCE

The Columbia Military Academy Band is the most colorful group and the one most familiar to the public. It serves as the basic unit from which members of the Concert Band and the Dance Band are selected. This year, under the direction of Captain James Parker, the Band has launched a long-term revitalization program. As an initial step in this project, Captain Joe Groom was appointed Assistant Band Director. To stimulate increased participation in musical organizations, scholarships have been awarded to superior players.

The Band has performed for the public on many occasions. In addition to the Sunday parades it has played at the Mardi Gras, concerts, football games, and several Christmas parades.

So successful has been the music program that the Band increased enrollment by over fifty percent in one year.

Maury County Hospital

At the time of construction of Maury County Hospital, the residents of this area were being served by the King's Daughters Hospital which had a capacity of 42 beds. Because of the industrial growth and increased utilization of medical care, the King's Daughters Hospital became critically crowded, and many residents of necessity were going to metropolitan areas for needed hospital care.

The construction of Maury County Hospital was a joint project of the County, State, and Federal Governments. The Federal participation was made possible by the Hill-Burton Hospital Construction Program, begun in 1946. The hospital was constructed with an original bed capacity of 102 at a total cost of $2,250,000 and was opened on December 16, 1953. At the time of the opening, there were 16 physicians admitted to membership on the Medical Staff. The original number of employees was 55, and the first month of operation saw an average patient census of 49 per day.

The hospital has experienced a rapid increase in the number of patients, and it became necessary in 1958 to begin making plans for expansion. An expansion program was completed and the facilities made ready for use in December, 1960. The expansion cost $1,000,000 and provided 50 additional beds, additional operating rooms, and additional space in the laboratory, X-ray, kitchen, laundry, and some other service areas. Cobalt facilities were also provided in the new section for treatment of cancer victims.

The membership of the Medical Staff has increased from 16 to 25 physicians since 1953. The hospital now offers a comprehensive scope of care for surgical, medical, obstetric, and pediatric patients. The present bed complement is 152 adult and pediatric beds plus 26 bassinets for newborn infants. During January, 1962, the hospital averaged 130 patients per day, a sizeable increase in comparison to the average for the first month of operation. The operating budget for 1962 will reach $1,000,000 with employees numbering 240, and the total payroll will be close to $600,000.

Not only is the hospital fulfilling a very vital service for the ill and injured, but it is also a very important segment of our local economy from the standpoint of personnel and total operating budget. With the increase in medical specialization, the hospital is experiencing an increase in the number of patients being referred from neighboring counties in South-Middle Tennessee. It is anticipated that growth will continue and that future planning will include the most needed facilities to provide adequate and proper space and equipment in order to care for the ill, injured, and aged of this area.
