MAJOR EARL G. SPARKMAN

DEDICATION

We, the RECALL staff of 1964, take pride in dedicating our yearbook to Major Earl G. Sparkman. Major Sparkman came to Columbia Military Academy thirteen years ago, and has rendered valuable service as a teacher as well as in the Commandant's office where he very ably assisted part of the time. As a teacher of mathematics, Major Sparkman has excelled due to his ability to teach in this field. He is held in high esteem by the battalion and is respected by the members of the faculty.

We consider it a real privilege to be able to dedicate the RECALL to Major Sparkman.

ATHLETICS

The 1964 football season began with the opening of Football Camp early in September. After several days of homesickness, sore muscles, and blistered feet the boys began developing into a fine spirited team.

There were many positions to be filled, because only four lettermen returned from the previous year.

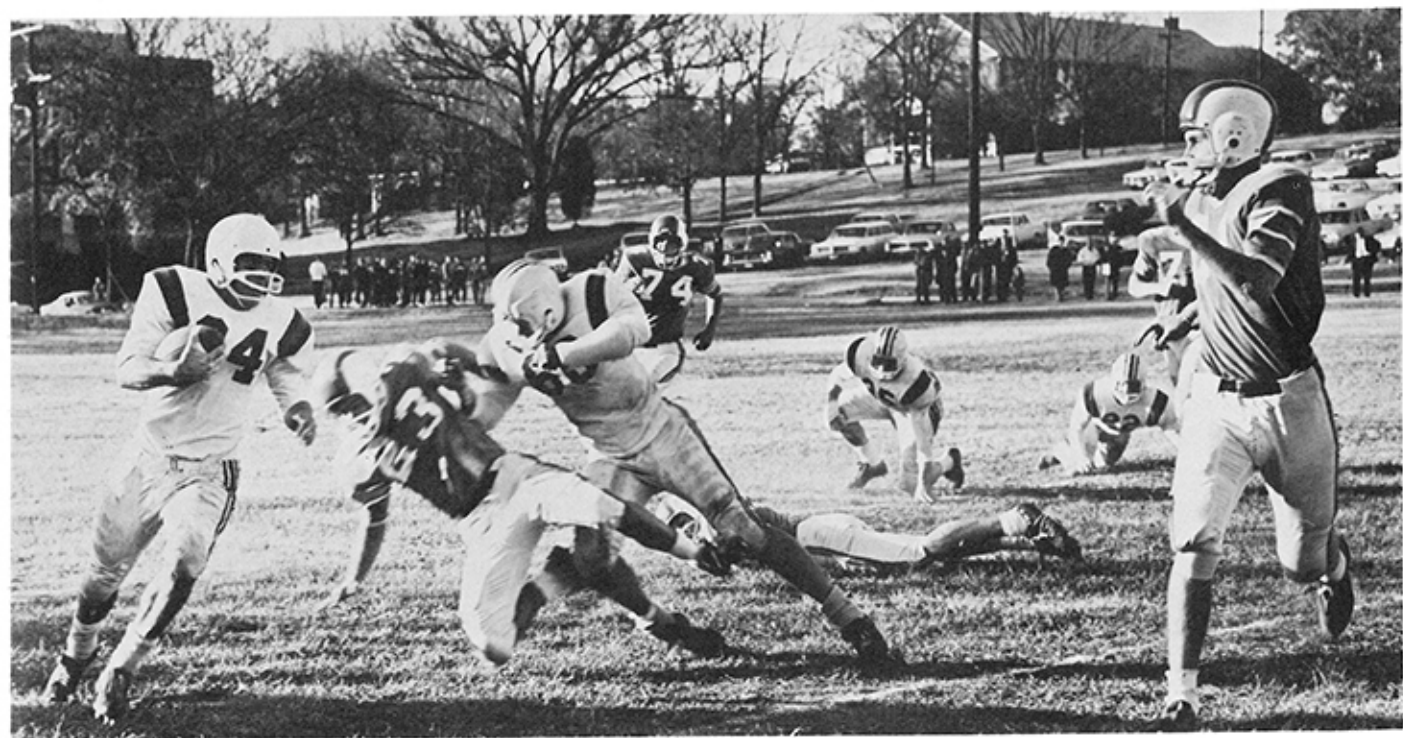

Although the team worked well together, played hard, and showed an exceeding desire to win all through the season, the Bulldogs, playing one of the toughest schedules in the Mid-South Conference, suffered 4 losses compared to only 1 victory.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Under the leadership and excellent coaching of Bill Wade the Bulldogs had another great season of 12 wins and only three losses against prep schools, and three wins, 10 losses against colleges. At the final championship tournament the Bulldogs won second place in the Mid-South.

This year's team had an abundance of talent. They received help from several juniors as well as the regular seniors and postgraduates.

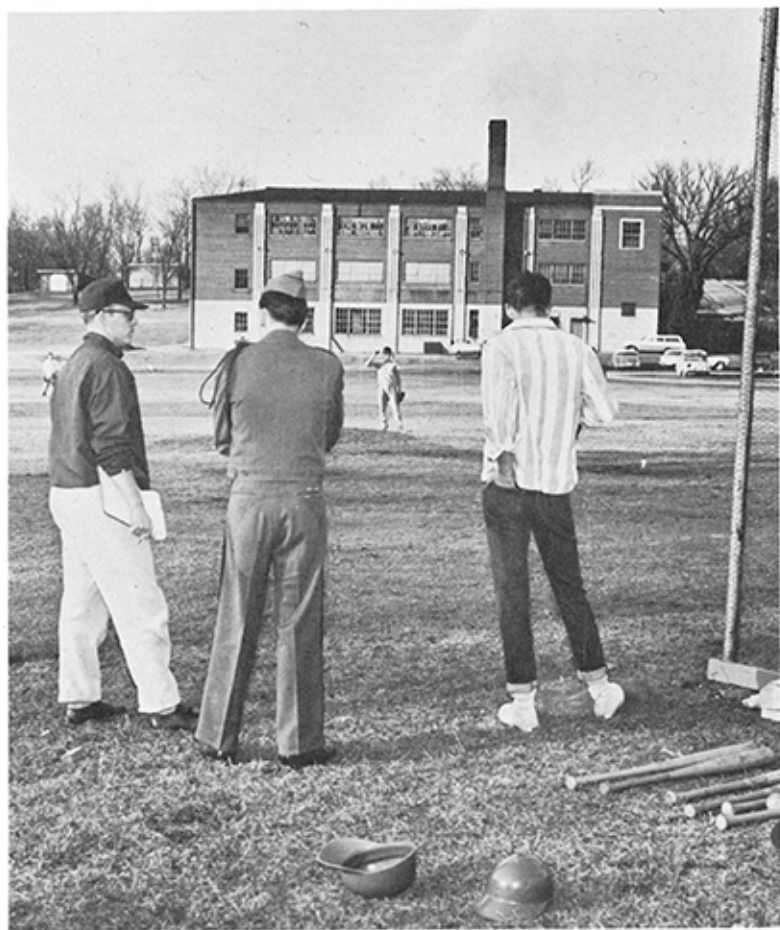

The Captain of this year's team was Gus Mahan, who did an outstanding job on the football field as well as the basketball court.

VALEDICTORIAN

Stodious, conscientious, and cultured. These are the words which describe the 1964 Valedictorian, John J. Ross. John, a student who has attended Columbia Military Academy for four years, has established himself with his friends and classmates as both a leader of outstanding ability and a student eager to learn and eager to help his fellow classmates.

John, who has been the top student in his class since he arrived at Columbia Military Academy, has achieved the over-all average of 97.48 during his four years at C.M.A. He has earned the Mathematics Medal, General Science Medal, Biology Medal, and Chemistry Medal for being the top student in each of these subjects.

John, besides being an academic leader, is also a military leader. Last year he received the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for Achievement, which is the highest award that can be given to an ROTC student. John is the Battalion Executive Officer, possessing the rank of Cadet Major.

John plans to become a lawyer, and after a practice trial in the Academy English convicting the legendary Macbeth of murder, there is no doubt that he will succeed in accomplishing his goal as he has accomplished his other goals of life thus far. John will enter Vanderbilt University this fall, starting up the pathway to achieve his profession in life.

SALUTATORIAN

Throughout the years which Charles Osville Finne, III, has spent at Columbia he has set an outstanding example academically as well as militarily. Oz, as his friends call him, is the Battalion Commander this year, possessing the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He has fulfilled his goal and purpose as Battalion Commander by the way in which he has organized and supervised the training of the students, preparing them to pass successfully the Annual Government Inspection.

Oz has maintained an average of 93.08 during his last four years of study at Columbia Military Academy. He has been in the top five of his class consistently during this time. Due to his high Academic standing he is, like John, a member of the National Honor Society.

Oz plans to be a doctor and upon graduating he will enter Vanderbilt University to further his education to accomplish that goal.

Maury County Hospital

At the time of construction of Maury County Hospital, the residents of this area were being served by the King's Daughters Hospital which had a capacity of 42 beds. Because of the industrial growth and increased utilization of medical care, the King's Daughters Hospital became critically crowded, and many residents of necessity were going to metropolitan areas for needed hospital care.

The construction of Maury County Hospital was a joint project of the County, State, and Federal Governments. The Federal participation was made possible by the Hill-Burton Hospital Construction Program, begun in 1946. The hospital was constructed with an original bed capacity of 102 at a total cost of $2,250,000 and was opened on December 16, 1953. At the time of the opening, there were 16 physicians admitted to membership on the Medical Staff. The original number of employees was 55, and the first month of operation saw an average patient census of 49 per day.

The hospital has experienced a rapid increase in the number of patients, and it became necessary in 1958 to begin making plans for expansion. An expansion program was completed and the facilities made ready for use in December, 1960. The expansion cost $1,000,000 and provided 50 additional beds, additional operating rooms, and additional space in the laboratory, X-ray, kitchen, laundry, and some other service areas. Cobalt facilities were also provided in the new section for treatment of cancer victims.

The membership of the Medical Staff has increased from 16 to 25 physicians since 1953. The hospital now offers a comprehensive scope of care for surgical, medical, obstetric, and pediatric patients. The present bed complement is 152 adult and pediatric beds plus 26 bassinets for newborn infants. During January, 1962, the hospital averaged 130 patients per day, a sizeable increase in comparison to the average for the first month of operation. The operating budget for 1962 will reach $1,000,000 with employees numbering 240, and the total payroll will be close to $600,000.

Not only is the hospital fulfilling a very vital service for the ill and injured, but it is also a very important segment of our local economy from the standpoint of personnel and total operating budget. With the increase in medical specialization, the hospital is experiencing an increase in the number of patients being referred from neighboring counties in South-Middle Tennessee. It is anticipated that growth will continue and that future planning will include the most needed facilities to provide adequate and proper space and equipment in order to care for the ill, injured, and aged of this area.
